Figure 1: Dimensionality reduction approaches used on the spectral data. The colors correspond to the tissue type. A) Plot of the principal components yielded a separation of blood from tissue as well as separation of certain tissue regions. B) UMAP plot revealing distinctions between blood and tissue, but also differences in some of the ventricle regions vs. other sites